

Cambridge Global Health Partnerships Global Health Fellowships for Nurses, Midwives and Allied Health Professionals at CUH

The Cambridge Global Health Partnerships (CGHP) Global Health Fellowships (GHFs) provide opportunity to Nurses, Midwives and Allied Health Professionals (AHPs) to develop greater understanding of global health and participate in health partnership activities.

These Global Health Fellowships are offered to Band 6+ Nurses, Midwives & AHPs employed at Cambridge University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (CUH) and with a minimum of two years continuous service at CUH.

Global Health Fellows can expect to:

- Have funded time equivalent to half a working day per week to dedicate to global health activities.
- Gain understanding of global health and skills in team working, leadership and management and governance, alongside their speciality knowledge and skills.
- Experience partnership working with healthcare professionals in the Global South within an existing health partnership supported by CGHP. The GHFs will be expected to work within an established health partnership working on existing projects. The specific work undertaken will depend on the interests of the GHF and agreement of CGHP and a CUH global health supervisor – this may involve teaching, audit, guideline development and research.
- Undertake a visit with their global health supervisor to international partners.
- Become a champion for global health within their CUH department and profession, and across the East of England region.
- Join a support network for international staff working in the East of England with involvement in induction and mentorship.

Eligibility

Open to CUH employed Band 6+ nurses, midwives and AHPs with a minimum of two years continuous service at CUH.

GHF posts are offered for one year subject to satisfactory progression and agreed educational objectives.

Due to funding restrictions only TWO fellowships will be offered in 2025-26.
